Poll Shows Legislators Favor U-Status

Marshall may now have more than the required support for University status in both the House of Delegates and the Senate.

Hugh Maxwell, Legislative correspondent for the Huntington Advertiser, reported that a poll of legislators Wednesday showed 70 delegates favored the bill changing the name of Marshall College to Marshall University.

He said that 20 favored the bill in the Senate.

A majority vote is required in each house to pass the bill—51 in the House of Delegates and 17 in the Senate. As thing now stand, the bill has 19 more votes than needed in the lower house and three more than needed in the Senate.

The bill was voted out of both educational committees Tuesday. It may be acted upon today by the full Senate and by the House of Delegates on Monday.

The Ohio Valley-Kanawha chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, went on record Tuesday night as unanimously supporting university status for Marshall.

The resolution was passed at a dinner session at the Prichard Hotel. The group represented newsmen from most parts of the state, including the far eastern section.

Ralph Fisher, editor of the Moorefield Examiner, said, "West Virginia needs another university, and Marshall should be it because it is easier to get to." He explained that he was unbiased in the matter as one son had graduated from West Virginia University and that he has a daughter who is a sophomore there.

Paul W. Haddock, editor of the Marlinton Journal, said that he personally favored the action.

Six Vie For Military Ball Queen

Auto Flips Over; Roll Bar, Safety Belt Save Driver

(Editor's Note: Jim Duffield, Elkins junior, was returning to Huntington from Morgantown Tuesday night when the car wheels went off one side of the highway. The car flipped over and over but the driver emerged unhurt. Read his story of how a roll bar and safety belt saved his life.)

By JIM DUFFIELD
Staff Writer

The small foreign sports car was roaring down the highway. The driver, a licensed NSCA driver, was thinking about other things that had happened that evening. His mind wandered from the road. He didn't realize that his high-powered car was going faster and faster.

His reflexes worked automatically as if he was racing at Marlboro, or at Cumberland—shifting down at each turn and then revving to the redline on his tack before he upshifted on the straights.

As his mind wandered the car dropped off the pavement on the right side of the road. In the crisis his reflexes worked automatically. He let the car stay off the pavement because he knew that if he tried to jerk it back on the pavement it might flip the car.

But before he could act he saw that the berm along the road ahead was too low for the car to pass over it. He slammed on the brakes and tried to put the car back on the highway. Before he realized it the car hit the pavement that was sticking up above the low berm. The car seemed to take off like a plane, except it was going end over end.

After the car had made one complete flip, without touching the road, it landed back on its wheels again and hit an embankment head-on.

Then it flipped over and over about three or four times and came to a stop on its wheels.

The driver climbed out unhurt, except for a twisted ankle, surveyed the car and, after he realized what had happened, collapsed from shock.

After the shock wore off he began to think what could have happened if . . . the car had not been equipped with a roll bar and safety belt.

The car was demolished and yet the driver was unhurt. As this driver goes on living, each time he sees a sports car or a big American convertible that is not equipped with a roll bar and safety belt he will wonder if that driver knows what his chances are of coming out alive from a bad accident. Without a roll bar and safety belt—not very good.

ROTC Queens Receive Capes

This year's ROTC company sponsors will have a new look. Each sponsor was presented with a cape which will be worn each time they represent their companies.

Col. Arvin Vaughn, cadet Battle Group Commander and Huntington senior, made the presentation to the sponsors in a ceremony before the entire battle group Tuesday.

The capes are made of white satin and are lined with taffeta corresponding to the company colors which are Company A—green, Company B—beige, Company C—red, Company D—yellow, Company N—blue and Headquarters Company—white.

The first official wearing of the capes will be at the annual ROTC Military Ball at the Prichard Hotel Ballroom next Friday. One of the six company sponsors will be chosen Military Ball Queen and will be crowned at the Ball.

New Four-Week Old SAE Pledge Cannot Vote 'Oink' At Meetings

By PATTY POLISKEY
Campus Editor

This little pig went to market! This little pig stayed home! But this little pig went Sigma Alpha Epsilon!

Newton Nash Clements is the newest pledge of the local SAE chapter. "Newt" is a four-week-old pig named for the first pledge of the fraternity. The original Clements was pledged in 1856 at the University of Alabama.

The pig returned last week end with the pledges. The pledge class made a traditional trip to Ohio State and the University of Cincinnati where they visited other SAE chapters. Tre trip climaxed the end of construction week.

"Newt" is now the official mascot and will attend all pledge functions. However, he doesn't have voting power.

The pledges were accompanied on the trip by Hughes Booher, Weirton senior and pledge master.

'Newt' Will Be Rooting For SAE

MAYBE YOU CAN'T make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, but the SAE pledge class intends to make a mascot out of this porker. Fred Gumm (left) Montclair, N. J., freshman, and Dave Curry, Huntington sophomore, were members of the SAE pledge class who brought back this pig, which they call "Newt", from a recent trip to Ohio State University and the University of Cincinnati.

Dietz Greets Car; Governor Missing

John Dietz, Richwood sophomore and president of Sigma Phi Epsilon, men's social fraternity, received quite a shock Tuesday night when he anticipated the arrival of a fraternity brother to the Sig Ep smoker. The brother was former governor Cecil H. Underwood who was scheduled to speak at the smoker.

When two large black automobiles rambled up in front of the fraternity house, Dietz gayly bounced over to one of the vehicles and gingerly opened the door to greet Underwood. To his surprise, the occupants had come to visit a friend who lived across the street.

Breakfast Visitor Gets Corn, Nuts

By MIKE WOODFORD
Staff Reporter

As the light of early morning filters through the branches of the old beech tree, Herman the squirrel prepares to eat his breakfast.

Lately Herman has been feeding the window of the Treasurer's office. The women working there find great pleasure in watching him run and play in the chill of the morning.

It was not until the last cold spell that Herman became a regular boarder at the treasurer's window. Every morning at 10 the little gray squirrel heads for the window where Della Kearnes, an employee of the office, feeds him.

It seems as if Herman is very particular about what he eats and who his breakfast companions are. If a stranger is nearby during his mealtime, Herman postpones his meal and hides behind a tree until the intruder is gone.

Herman's diet consists of corn and nuts which the women crack for him. Perhaps because of old age or laziness, Herman refuses to crack his own.

As if his pre-cracked breakfasts aren't enough, Herman throws a fit if his meal isn't prepared on time. He runs up and down the nearby trees and screams through the window. The women may not understand his language, but they understand what he is trying to say. Food is the only thing that will quiet Herman down.

After Herman becomes a campus celebrity, he may have little time for his lady benefactors. No matter how great his popularity, he will remain the darling of the eight women who take money through one window and feed the squirrel through the other one.

TV And Stage Star Shelley Berman Featured In Artist Series Feb. 28

Tickets for the February 28th Artist Series, "All Sides of Shelley Berman", will be available Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Old Main. The Artist Series, will feature Shelley Berman star of television, stage, and records.

Berman, who is one of the younger comedians in show business today, makes no secret of the fact that at heart he's a frustrated dramatic actor.

"You must realize," he says dead-pan, "I'm not a comic. I'm an actor who sometimes deals in funny material. Oh, I guess maybe sometimes I'm a comedian, but I'll tell you, at the bottom I'm an actor."

Berman's background in the theatre includes many successful dramatic portrayals in repertory and summer stock companies; some outstanding roles in such TV toppers as Goodyear Playhouse, Philco Playhouse, Ellery Queen, Peter Gunn, and Suspense; and a Broadway stint in "The Girls Against the Boys."

He has also appeared on the Jack Paar, Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan, George Gobel, and "Chevy" television shows, and kept the "standing room only" sign up at clubs like Mister Kelly's in Chicago, the Avant Garde and Crescendo in Los Angeles, the Blue Angel in New York, and the Thunderbird in Las Vegas.

So popular were his routines, in these clubs, that many of them were recorded on the Verve albums "Inside Shelley Berman" and "Outside Shelley Berman". The public responded with unprecedented sales that resulted in both soaring near the top of the best seller list.

Appearing with Berman will be the Cumberland Trio.

Faculty Will Consider English Examinations

The faculty will consider and possibly vote on the proposal for a qualifying English examination at a general faculty meeting Feb. 28. The proposed examination would be given to upperclassmen as a requirement for graduation.

The proposal was given to the Academic Planning and Standards Committee for study last November. The Committee has approved it as revised in consultation with President Stewart H. Smith, the academic deans, and the department chairmen.

The qualifying examination was proposed by the English Department "in an effort to demand of all graduates of Marshall College an acceptable standard in the written use of their own language."

The examinations would be given during a two hour period six times each year.

Students in the three-year and four-year programs would take the test after they reached the junior classification, while students in two-year programs would take it after they passed six hours of regular freshman English.

The only students excused from taking the test would be those receiving A or B grades in English 102a or 104a. The committee recommended that the test be waived for foreign students from countries whose national language is not English.

The examination would consist of a 400 word composition and students would be required to turn in both a rough draft and the final composition. Students would choose a subject from several provided by the department in which he is majoring or, in Teachers College, from an area in which he has a teaching field.

The examination would be administered by the English Department. Final papers would be read by a member of this department to judge competency of expression in relation to subject-matter content.

No marks would be placed on the paper by either reader. The words "passing" or "failing" would be placed on a separate identification sheet.

If either department reports a grade of "failing" the student fails the examination. A student may take the test as many times as necessary but he must pass it in order to graduate.

The proposal also states that, when appointment of an additional faculty member to the English Department makes it possible, a Composition Clinic would be established for students failing the examination.

College Making Elaborate Plans For High School Cage Tourney

By MIKE WOODFORD
Staff Reporter

As the basketball season draws to an end, the college faculty is making elaborate plans for the housing, feeding, and entertainment of hundreds of high school students who will visit the city for the state basketball championships.

The 48th annual High School Basketball Tournament, sponsored by the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission, will be held at Memorial Field House March 16-17-18 under the direction of Athletic Director Neal Wilson.

Housing the students is being supervised by the Rev. Lander

Beal and must be applied and paid for by the students in advance. William Spotts, college cafeteria manager, will have added help on hand to take care of the extra meals the cafeteria will serve during the course of the tournament.

Administrative Assistant Paul Collins is in charge of the official welcoming of the students. Guided tours of the campus are planned.

A dance featuring Howard Jennings and his orchestra will be held March 17th at the union, and will be open only to students and faculty of participating schools. A "Breakfast Hop" will be held the morning of March 18.

Don Morris, Student Union manager, plans to give away 1,000 doughnuts, 1,200 glasses of juice, and 1,500 cups of coffee during the free dance and breakfast.

The first game of the tournament will be held at 7:30 p.m. March 16. Advanced tickets can be obtained from the athletic office in the near future.

High school personnel and students can buy booklets of all-tournament tickets at $4 a set, while adult patrons will be charged $8. Tickets also can be purchased individually at the gate.

Coach Jule Rivlin and his Big Green had trouble Wednesday night when they tried to ruffle the feathers of the Morehead Eagles and went down to a 78-74 defeat.

Playing without Tex Williams, who had a virus infection, the Green just couldn't seem to hit the bucket. Time after time they put the ball in just to have it come back out again.

Morehead broke the ice in the first 15 seconds of the game with a field goal but Lew Mott came back to even it up 2-2. The game was nip and tuck until with seven minutes left in the first half the Eagles got four straight field goals while the Big Green went scoreless. At the end of the half Morehead was out in front 40-30.

The Big Green made a comeback in the second half and with 10 minutes left had a one point lead at 53-52. Morehead went right back on top at 54-53 and in the next few minutes the game was tied four different times.

With less than three minutes left in the second half the Eagles led by only one at 71-70. Morehead put in two foul shots and then froze the ball for almost two minutes. Lew Mott came back with a goal to come within one point but the Eagles drew a foul and with 14 seconds left in the game the Green was behind 76-72. Chuck Gorden sank a fielder but Morehead drew a foul and with two seconds left dropped in two foul shots to defeat the Green 78-74.

Mickey Sydenstricker, who got the starting nod in Tex Williams place, was high scorer with nine field goals for 18 points. Lew Mott and Bob Burgess dumped in 15 apiece and Phil Carter got 12 on six field goals.

The Big Green stay on the road for the next two games when they tangle with Toledo and Bowling Green on Saturday and Monday nights.

The Net Result? Baseball Practice!

BASEBALL PRACTICE IN A BUILDING. Baseball practice gets under way in the new Physical Education building. Even though the team doesn't know where it will play its games, they're getting ready for the March 27 opener with Indiana.

NETS GO UP. The nets on the handball courts make them look like some fishermen are drying their nets. Actually they protect the new building from damage from flying baseballs.

"THE SLOW RUSH"

Illustrated below is the membership pin of a brand-new national fraternity called Signa Phi Nothing. To join Signa Phi Nothing and get this hideous membership pin absolutely free, simply take a pair of scissors and cut out the illustration and paste it to your dickey. Let me hasten to state that I do not recommend your joining Signa Phi Nothing. The only thing I recommend in this column is Marlboro cigarettes, as any honest man would who likes a filtered cigarette with an unfiltered taste, who yearns to settle back and enjoy a full-flavored smoke, whose heart is quickened by a choice of soft pack or flip-top box and who gets paid every week for writing this column. It is difficult to think of any reason why you should join Signa Phi Nothing. Some people, of course, are joiners by nature; if you are one such I must tell you there are any number of better organizations than Signa Phi Nothing for you to join—the Mafia, for example. But if you should join Signa Phi Nothing, let me give you several warnings. First off, it is the only fraternity that admits girls. Second, there is no pledge period; each new member immediately goes active. Perhaps "inactive" is a more accurate term; there are no meetings, no drives, no campaigns, no sports, no games, no dues, no grip, and no house. The only thing Signa Phi Nothing has that other fraternities have is a fraternity hymn. In fact, two hymns were submitted to a recent meeting of the national board of directors (none of whom attended). The first hymn goes:

*Hotcha, boop-boop-a-doop,
Mother's making blubber soup.*
The second hymn is considerably longer:
*A Guernsey's a cow,
A road is a lane,
When you're eating chow,
Remember the mein!*
Pending the next meeting of the national board of directors, which will never be held, members are authorized to sing either hymn. Or, for that matter, Stardust. Perhaps you are asking why there should be such a fraternity as Signa Phi Nothing. I will give you an answer—an answer with which you cannot possibly disagree: Signa Phi Nothing fills a well-needed gap. Are you suffering from mental health? Is logic distorting your thinking? Is ambition encroaching on your native sloth? Are your long-cherished misapprehensions retreating before a sea of facts? In short, has education caught up with you? If so, congratulations. But tell the truth—wouldn't you like to make an occasional visit back to the good old days when you were not so wise and composed and industrious—when you were, in fact, nuttier than a fruitcake? If you pine for those old familiar miasms, those dear, dead vapors, join Signa Phi Nothing and renew, for a fleeting moment, your acquaintance with futility. We promise nothing, and, by George, we deliver it!

College Humor Remains Unchanged, Says Toole

By CAROLYN REED
Feature Writer

Humor, according to Webster's Dictionary, is that quality which appeals to a sense of the ludicrous or absurdly incongruous. But to students on the campus, humor means anything that is funny.

Stephen D. Buell, associate professor of speech, says that college students today have the same ability to laugh that they did when he was in college. This is basically the same opinion expressed by Dr. Grasham Toole, professor of history. Dr. Toole said that basic humor is the same today, although the jokes may have changed.

Bill Smelser, Huntington sophomore, tells about a man who roundtrip ticket. When asked went into a bus station to buy a "where to?", he looked at the ticket agent and exclaimed, "Why, back here, of course!"

Then came the age of the cruelty or "sadist" jokes such as this one from Ann Combs, Huntington sophomore. "Mommy, why is daddy limping across the field?" "Shut up and keep shooting!"

At this time was also heard this play on words. John Pack, Barboursville senior tells of a king on one of the South Sea Islands who lived in a grass hut. A group of American tourists gave him a new throne, so he put the old one in the loft of his hut. One day as he sat on his new throne the old one crashed down knocking him to the floor. The moral—those who live in grass houses should not stow thrones.

The political campaign and the election were sources of much humor. Does Richard Nixon have a job on the Wagon Train now? Well, he does, he's working his way back to California. The new name for the Statue of Liberty is Our Lady of the Harbor.

In the realm of written humor the line drawing pictures with captions called doodles and the words which are printed in such a way as to "act out" a sentence, called wordles, are still frequently seen.

So, who knows what the next "fad" of campus humor will be?

Union Activities Committee Plans Entertainment For Coming Months

By DOROTHY LOCKE
Staff Reporter

Students are given a voice in Student Union activities via the Student Union Activities Committee, which serves as an intermediary between the students and the Student Union management.

This committee is made up of a representative from each dormitory, Inter-Fraternity Council, Pan-Hellenic Council, and the Student Government. They meet about once a month with Don Morris, Union manager, and Bill Gillespie, assistant manager and activities director, to plan and discuss ideas for Union activities.

These members are selected by the dormitory or organization president. Students who have questions or suggestions can talk with their representative.

Some of the activities of the committee are helping to check student identification cards, setting up movie equipment, helping to select Friday night movies, decorating the Union at Christmastime, and publishing a bulletin each week to advertise Union activities.

Some suggestions for activities under consideration are a rock and roll marathon, a square dance group, a Saturday afternoon mix over radion station WPLH, and an activity in connection with the student government election in the spring.

Movies scheduled to be shown are "Caine Mutiny," tonight, and later "The High and the Mighty," "High Noon," "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "Mr. Roberts," and "Ten Thousand Bedrooms."

The movies were begun in the fall of 1959, under the management of Phil Fisher, and have been popular enough to continue, according to Mr. Gillespie. The object is to keep students on campus over weekends. There is a mix after each movie. Attendance at the movies is growing, said Gillespie, and the turnout for weekend mixes is almost as large as for Wednesday night mixes. I. D. cards are often checked because the available space is so small.
